

Demand Responsive Transport - Reinventing the bus

Order Form

Reinventing the bus is a new video/dvd which shows how demand responsive bus services can provide transport solutions where conventional buses are impractical or unpopular. It gives a real flavour of different schemes in six case study areas: Genoa, Lincoln, Hampshire, Tampere (Finland), Campi (near Florence) and Strathclyde. All bring to life a different way in which DRT can help solve transport problems in urban or rural locations. This is a video which will be of great help to local authorities, bus operators, providers of transport courses and specialist transport groups.

There are interviews with the designers and operators of the services, summaries at the end of each scheme and an overall round up section. It comes with an extended information pack and costs £59.99 (inc VAT + P&P in UK).
